

Bessie Greenow-Langford's Biography

Hello, my name is Bessie Greenow-Langford, I'm a third year Vet Med student at Harper & Keele Veterinary School. Fascinated by the world of animals and science, I have wanted to pursue a career as a vet for as long as I can remember. Over the years, I have owned a variety of pets from horses, dogs, rabbits, even a goat; as well as finding work in any animal related industry, from dairies, racing yards and kennels and catteries. Many of these experiences have steered my interests toward mixed general practice, with a particular interest in Large Animal Medicine – especially within Production systems and One Health.
